AGENTS

Definition:

An agent is any individual who:

- (a) Represents an individual for the purpose of marketing his or her athletics ability or reputation for financial gain; or
- (b) Seeks to obtain any type of financial gain or benefit from securing a prospective student-athlete's enrollment at an educational institution or from a student-athlete's potential earnings as a professional athlete.

AGENTS

An individual shall be ineligible for participation in an intercollegiate sport if he or she ever has agreed (orally or in writing) to be represented by an agent for the purpose of marketing his or her athletics ability or reputation in that sport.

AGENTS

You, nor your family, can accept any type of benefit from an agent or runner.

Examples include:

- Cash
- Transportation
- Housing
- Gifts

AGENTS

Example NCAA Violation:

- Marvin Austin, North Carolina
 - Received transportation and lodging from an agent

EXTRA BENEFITS

You, nor your family, may receive anything for free or discounted strictly on the basis of your status as a football student athlete at the University of Georgia.

Sample NCAA Violation:

- Florida State Football Student Athletes were found to be receiving free and discounted clothing from a department store based on the fact that they were football student athletes.

COMPLIMENTARY ADMISSION

You may not sell or trade your complimentary admission/tickets for anything of value.

For example:

- Cash
- Use of vacation home
- Use of car or other mode of transportation

SELLING APPAREL AND BOWL
GIFTS

You may not sell anything, nor have anyone sell something for you, that you are provided by the University of Georgia or any bowl that the University of Georgia participates in, while you still have remaining eligibility.

20 HOUR RULE

When classes are in session:

- You may participate in a maximum of 20 hours per week;
- You may practice a maximum of 4 hours per day; and
- You must receive one day off per week.

- No such restrictions are in place when classes are not in session
